

HOME-LEARNING SUPPORT FROM DHOON SCHOOL AND LAXEY SCHOOL

With schools closed due to the COVID19 crisis, Laxey & Dhoon Schools have produced a comprehensive home-learning offer which we hope will support parents and encourage children to continue their learning journeys at home.

“Learning at Home” Letter for each class

Each class has a bespoke letter available on the school website which details the basics that children in that year group should continue to practise at home wherever possible. This includes reading, spellings, times tables and handwriting.

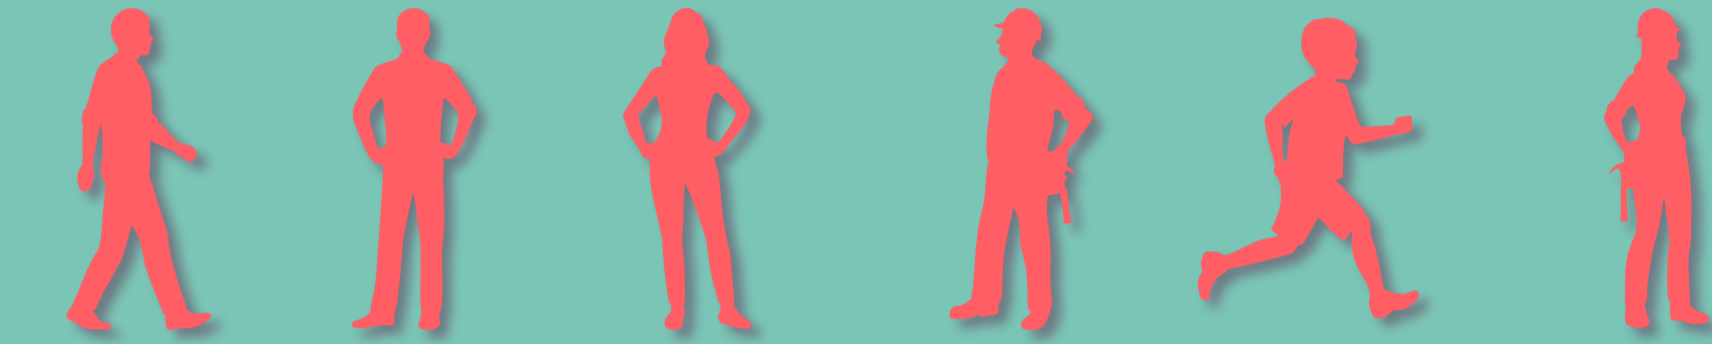

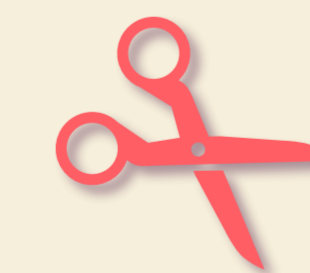

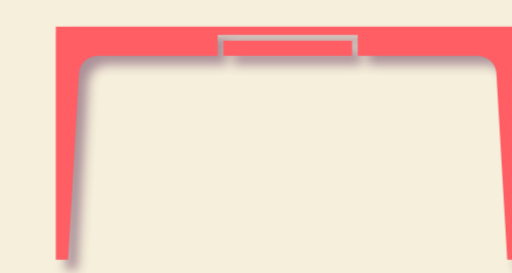

A pack of materials and resources to support the ‘basics’ has been made available for each class via the school websites. These are free to download and can be printed out at home.

Supplementary learning packs for each class

Bespoke home-learning activities for each class

Periodically throughout the school closures, Laxey and Dhoon have published - and will continue to do so - bespoke learning activities for children to do with their parents at home. These activities will not require a screen and are entirely optional.

We don’t believe that timetables and mandatory activities are helpful to families in isolation and working from home. Therefore we have adopted an ‘optional’ approach to our support package, but we are happy to share and celebrate great examples on our social media channels.
