

Monday 15th March 2021

ONLINE LESSON

In this lesson we will:

- Today we will take time to prepare you for Tuesday's maths focus, which will involve working with money and calculating % of prices.

Have a calculator at the ready.

- Reflect on the life of Nelson Mandela, including discussing some of his most inspirational quotes.

- If you have already had a go at writing your own limericks, then you will have a chance to share with the class too.

(Reminders of this challenge, as well as writing a fact file about a pioneering women are below.)

Sound switched "ON"

Your brain, as well as your 'Dhoon High 5' and 'Values'.

(Remember that these can be attempted and revisited at any time throughout lockdown. :-)

- Gender Equality - Pioneering Woman Factfile

- Last week we discussed some of your suggestions for pioneering women and some of their inspirational quotes, to accompany their inspiring actions and achievements. Your next challenge is to compile a fact file focusing on the life and achievements of your chosen woman, which you could base on the Malala Yousafzai fact file which can be found on the website.
- A time connectives list has also been added to the class 3 resources. These will enable you to open and extend sentences in different ways, linking information creatively and avoiding repetition too.
- Discover and analyse limericks: Search out and share examples of limericks. Which are your favourites and why? I look forward to hearing some of these next week. There are some examples in the document I have posted on the website, 'How to write a limerick'.
- Write your own limericks: There are some examples and guidelines on the website. I based my limericks on Manx and African locations. You could try this or link them to any location around the World. In fact it will be great if we have a truly global collection of limericks!

Art challenge - Abstract family portraits in the style used by R.J. Palacio as used in her book, 'Wonder', which we enjoyed together in the autumn term. I remember how much you all enjoyed creating your own abstract self portraits (and some pets too :-). How about creating some abstract portraits of family members?

I'm sure that we would all enjoy seeing these, so please share them if you would like. Examples of R.J. Palacio's illustrations have been added to the website. Bye for now.
